Greenways (built & planned) in the St. Louis region

WHAT IS A GREENWAY?
Greenways are outdoor spaces connecting people and places. More than just a path, each greenway is unique, connecting you to neighborhoods, businesses, parks and rivers to explore. You can take a walk, go for a run, ride a bike, or get some fresh air.

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO:
Look for our signs and please follow the rules:
» Share the path
» No motorized vehicles
» Keep right & pass on left
» Yield to pedestrians
» Do not block path
» Obey traffic signs
» Keep pets leashed & close

GREENWAYS ENCOURAGE ACTIVE LIFESTYLES AND CONNECT US TO OUR RIVERS, PARKS & COMMUNITIES
We build greenways so everyone can explore the St. Louis region in different ways. Whether you’re commuting, exploring new neighborhoods or businesses, exercising or connecting to nature, use the greenways to discover what our vibrant region has to offer.

Our greenways trace many of our region’s watersheds, providing access to the waterways, wetlands and woodlands that we call home.

The St. Louis region has many amazing parks. Greenways provide connections between these great destinations, and are destinations themselves!

Greenways provide a wealth of opportunities to discover and explore the art, culture, history and architecture in the area.

Donate to support the greenways:
www.GreatRiversGreenway.org

To discover which greenway is for you, visit us online or at our visitor center:
GreatRiversGreenway.org
6178 Delmar Blvd.
St. Louis, MO 63112

(Grant’s Trail)
Great Rivers Greenway is the public agency connecting the St. Louis region with greenways. In the year 2000, St. Louisans voted to leave a legacy for future generations by investing in and connecting together some of our region’s best assets – our rivers, parks and communities. That vote created a sales tax that allows us, with lots of partner and citizen input, to build, care for and bring to life a network of greenways – creating healthy habitats and watersheds along the way.

Great Rivers Greenway is committed to the long-term well-being of the St. Louis region – our people, our environment and our economy. Our network of greenways strengthens the health of all three. When our communities connect and grow together, the whole region thrives.

» To sustain our region, we must protect and enhance our natural resources. Our conservation efforts support the life of the greenways and their surrounding waterways and open spaces for the future.

» From increasing property values to aiding in attracting businesses, talent and tourists alike, the greenways enhance our economy.

» Greenways connect communities in so many ways. They physically connect people by bridging a barrier like a river or highway. Greenways are also places where people can meet their neighbors.

The greenways connect 2 million citizens throughout the 1,200 square miles in St. Louis City, St. Louis County and St. Charles County.

More than 113 miles of greenways built (and counting)!