Share the path

Greenways are for everyone! You can walk, run, bike, push a stroller or roll a wheelchair. Or just get some fresh air.

Please use communication and kindness with other greenway visitors.

- Keep right, pass on the left with a friendly, verbal warning
- Yield to people walking, running or using a wheelchair
- Do not block path
- Obey traffic signs and laws
- Keep pets leashed and close
- Authorized vehicles only

THANK YOU...

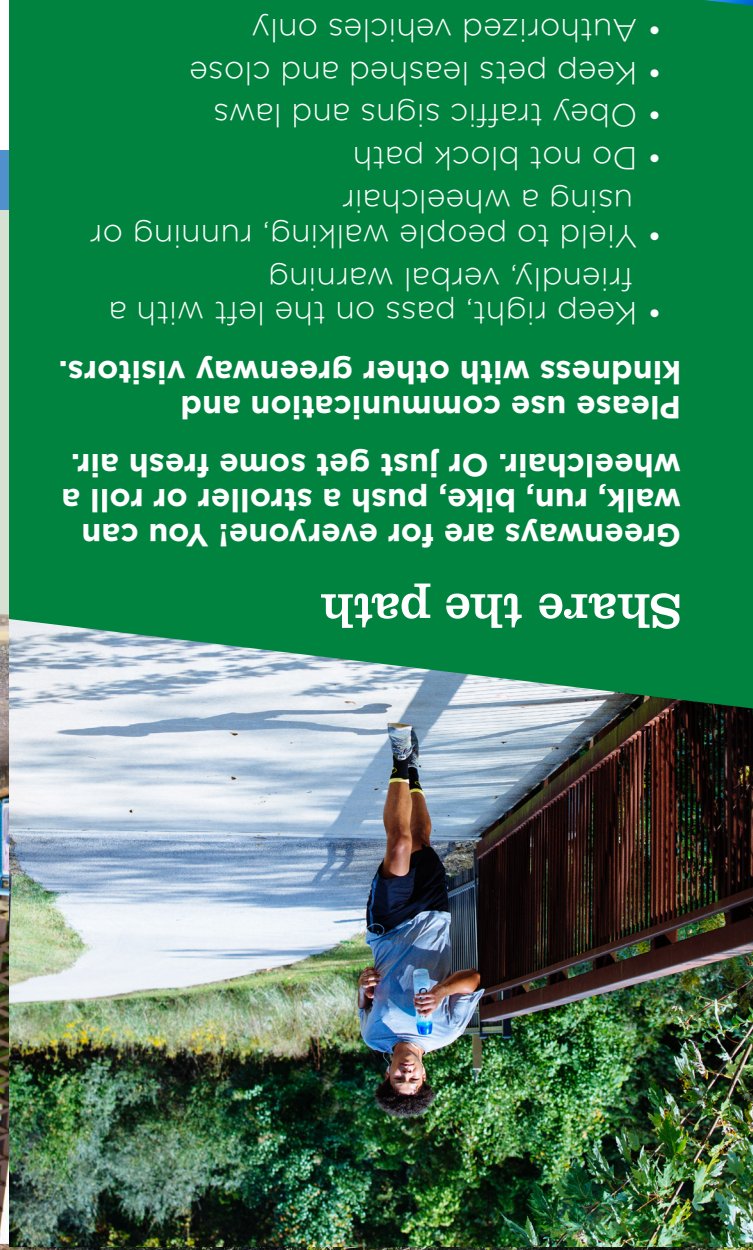

- for voting to leave this legacy
- for investing your tax dollars & donations
- for giving us feedback
- for visiting and volunteering
- for making our region a more vibrant place to live, work and play!

What's a greenway?

Outdoor spaces connecting people & places.

Each greenway is unique, reflecting the communities it connects, and has:

- Trails that are almost always paved and accessible.
- Conservation projects for healthier habitats.
- Amenities like restrooms, water fountains, benches, bike racks, signs and parking.
- Connections to places you can go!

The green in greenways

Within our mission to build greenways, we do conservation projects with partners, vendors & volunteers to:

- Create or improve natural habitats along greenways such as prairies, wetlands and forests, where plants, animals and pollinators thrive and storm/flood waters can be better managed naturally.
- Build greenway connections for people to stay healthy and make active transportation choices that reduce pollution from cars.
- Invite people to connect with, learn about, fall in love with, and take care of nature through ongoing education and volunteering.

"Great Rivers Greenway is one of my favorite organizations, so I was excited for the opportunity to volunteer. The crew leaders explained why it is so important to get rid of invasive bush honeysuckle and taught us to use the loppers. I had no idea how bad it is for the environment and now I see it everywhere. I feel informed!

It's inspiring and fun to be part of something that makes a positive impact on our environment in just a couple of hours!"

Who is Great Rivers Greenway?

We are the public agency connecting the St. Louis region with greenways.

In 2000, a vote of the people dedicated a fraction of a cent of sales tax for parks and greenways, leaving a legacy for future generations.

That vote created us! We collaborate to bring to life your network of greenways so you can explore and enjoy our region. Everything we do is with community input and many partners—thank you!

140 miles & counting...
